GOING TO THE ALMSHOUSE

Destitution of a Woman Who Nursed Union Soldiers in the War.

After many years of disheartening battle with the world—old and feeble—Mrs. Nellie E. Butler, an army nurse during the Civil War and the widow of a Union soldier, has decided that her only refuge during her declining years is the Almshouse. She appeared at the Mayor's office yesterday and requested a permit to enter that institution, says a late issue of the San Francisco Call. A month ago a rebel bullet, which had made her lame for the past thirty years, was extracted from her leg by a surgeon at the City and County Hospital.

When the Civil War broke out she was a bright, handsome young woman, and like many of her fair sisters in Boston, burning to do something for the wounded soldiers of the republic who suffered for want of care in the field hospitals of the South, with two other young ladies she went to the front and nursed the sick soldiers for several months.

At Port Royal a stray bullet pierced her leg and she was compelled to give up her chosen vocation. A patient in the hospital named Butler had taken a deep liking to his gentle nurse and when she left for her home she had promised to become his wife if he should return alive. When the war was over they were united and moved to Chicago, where they lived happily for many years.

About three years ago her husband died, leaving her in comfortable circumstances, but misfortune and the dishonesty of a person to whom she entrusted most of her funds for investment left her practically in poverty, and she was compelled to ask for a pension, receiving, after a long period of waiting, a pittance of $12 per month. With what little money she had she came to this coast four months ago, hoping to meet friends who would assist her, but on arriving, discovered that they had left for Australia.

Her wound, aggravated by the long journey across the continent, broke out afresh and she was compelled to go to the hospital and have an operation performed for its removal. Since then she has been ill, and her funds being entirely exhausted and no pension money coming for some time she is compelled to ask for a place in the city's refuge for the poverty stricken.

Mrs. Butler's conversation and appearance are those of an educated and refined woman with whom the battle of life has gone hard. She is at present living at 16½ Twenty-fourth street.

FITS CURED

(From U. S. Journal of Medicine.)

Prof. W. H. Peck, who makes a specialty of Epilepsy, has without doubt treated and cured more cases than any living Physician; his success is astonishing. We have heard of cases of 20 years' standing cured by him. He publishes a valuable work on this disease which he sends with a large bottle of his absolute cure, free to any sufferer who may send their P.O. and Express address. We advise anyone wishing a cure to address, Prof. W. H. PECK, P. O. 4, Cedar St., New York.

Good health you cannot have without pure blood. If you feel tired, weak, worn-out or run down from hard work, brought on by an impoverished condition of the blood or low state of the system, you should take Hood's Sarsaparilla. The peculiar toning, purifying and vitalizing qualities of this medicine are sent throughout the entire system, expelling disease and giving a quick and healthy action to every organ. It tones the stomach, creates an appetite and rouses the liver and kidneys. In fact, it invigorates the nervous system, tones the digestion and imparts new life and energy.
Mrs. E. B. Crouch of Lebanon, Oregon, has been a sufferer from indigestion and other ailments above mentioned.
Her interesting letter regarding her success with Hood's Sarsaparilla and also that of others in her neighbor-had that tired feeling and doctored for my troubles without success. One year ago I gave Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial. I have not been without a supply of the medicine from that time.

It Relieved Me Wonderfully and now when I feel the least uneasiness I resort to Hood's Sarsaparilla and it always gives me immediate relief. I could not do without it, and several of my neighbors have used it on my recommendation and have found it an excellent medicine. In several cases it has done them good after all

I am also highly pleased with the effects of Hood's Pills and would recommend them in connection with Hood's Sarsaparilla. Together they give the grandest results, as previously I was very nervous

Pure Milk.

The business of the country is settling into its former groove. Our gentlemanly driver has returned from his vacation, the cows in the pasture switch flies instead of bullets with their tails and the cream is richer in consequence. We believe we have satisfied every one of our customers who have taken milk from us and we are in a position to supply a great many more. The people who from choice or necessity visited Waialae during the past two weeks have had an opportunity to see just what sort of diet our stock feeds upon, and no longer wonder at the richness of the milk from our dairy.
Our facilities for delivery are the best. With the exception of a day or two early in the late unpleasantness our drivers have always been on time at our customers' residences.
We take this opportunity to thank those who have been patient with us and to solicit a continuance of their patronage. We will be pleased to fill all orders telephoned to us and guarantee all milk to be pure and free from adulteration.
